Dear Registered Shareholder,

The Joint Liquidators provide the instructions below as a guide for registered shareholders to assist with providing due diligence information. These instructions support the attached KYC Schedule and Forms. The instructions are in accordance with the British Virgin Islands' anti-money laundering and terrorist financing laws and regulations which require that the Joint Liquidators conduct customer due diligence procedures on investors.

Customer Due Diligence

The information we require from you will depend on which of the following categories you fit:

Exempted Investors:

- A financial institution, a corporation, a fund or a trustee that is regulated and has its current address in any of the countries listed in Schedule A, needs to complete Form A1.
- A custodian that is regulated and whose current address is in any of the countries listed in Schedule A, needs to complete Form A2.

Non-Exempted Investors:

- A financial institution, custodian or corporation that is not an Exempted Investor (as defined above), is required to provide information as outlined in Form B and complete and sign the declaration in Form B1.
- An individual is required to complete the information outlined in Form C and sign the declaration in Form C1.
- A trust, and a trustee who is not an Exempted Investor (as defined above), needs to complete the information outlined in Form D.

  If you are a non-exempted investor it is likely that you have to submit multiple forms from different categories. For instance, a corporation that needs to provide the information in Form B may also need to refer to Form C when it comes to each of certain individuals involved with the corporation (e.g. ultimate beneficial owner, directors). Alternatively, a trust that needs to provide the information in Form D may also need to refer to Forms B and C when it comes to certain corporations or individuals involved with the trust.

Wire Transfer Information

We require all registered shareholders to provide wire transfer instruction in the appropriate form, which appears at Form E. In order to facilitate payments, we request that payment be made to an account held in the name of the registered shareholder. We also request that all non-exempt parties provide a letter from their bank verifying the account details in the wire transfer instruction, which appears at the bottom of Form E.

Contact Details

We would recommend that you submit the information and documents by courier to the following address:

KRyS Global
Commerce House, 2nd Floor
